

KRISTIN ROSKITTE

EVERYBODY

COUNTS

KRISTIN
ROSKIFTE

EVERYBODY COUNTS

«Alle sammen teller»

ISBN 978-82-92863-80-0 · © Magikon forlag 2018 · 1. opplag

Tekst og illustrasjon: Kristin Roskifte · Formgivning: Svein Størksen

Trykk: GPS, Slovenia · Papir: Hello Fat Matt 150g · Sats: DIN Regular 12/15

Utgitt med støtte fra Norsk kulturfond, Norsk illustrasjonsfond og Grafill.

Magikon forlag, Fjellveien 48A, N-1410 Kolbotn, Norge · www.magikon.no

MAGIKON 2018

1 One person. He is lying in bed counting his heartbeats.
He wonders how many people are looking at the same stars right now.

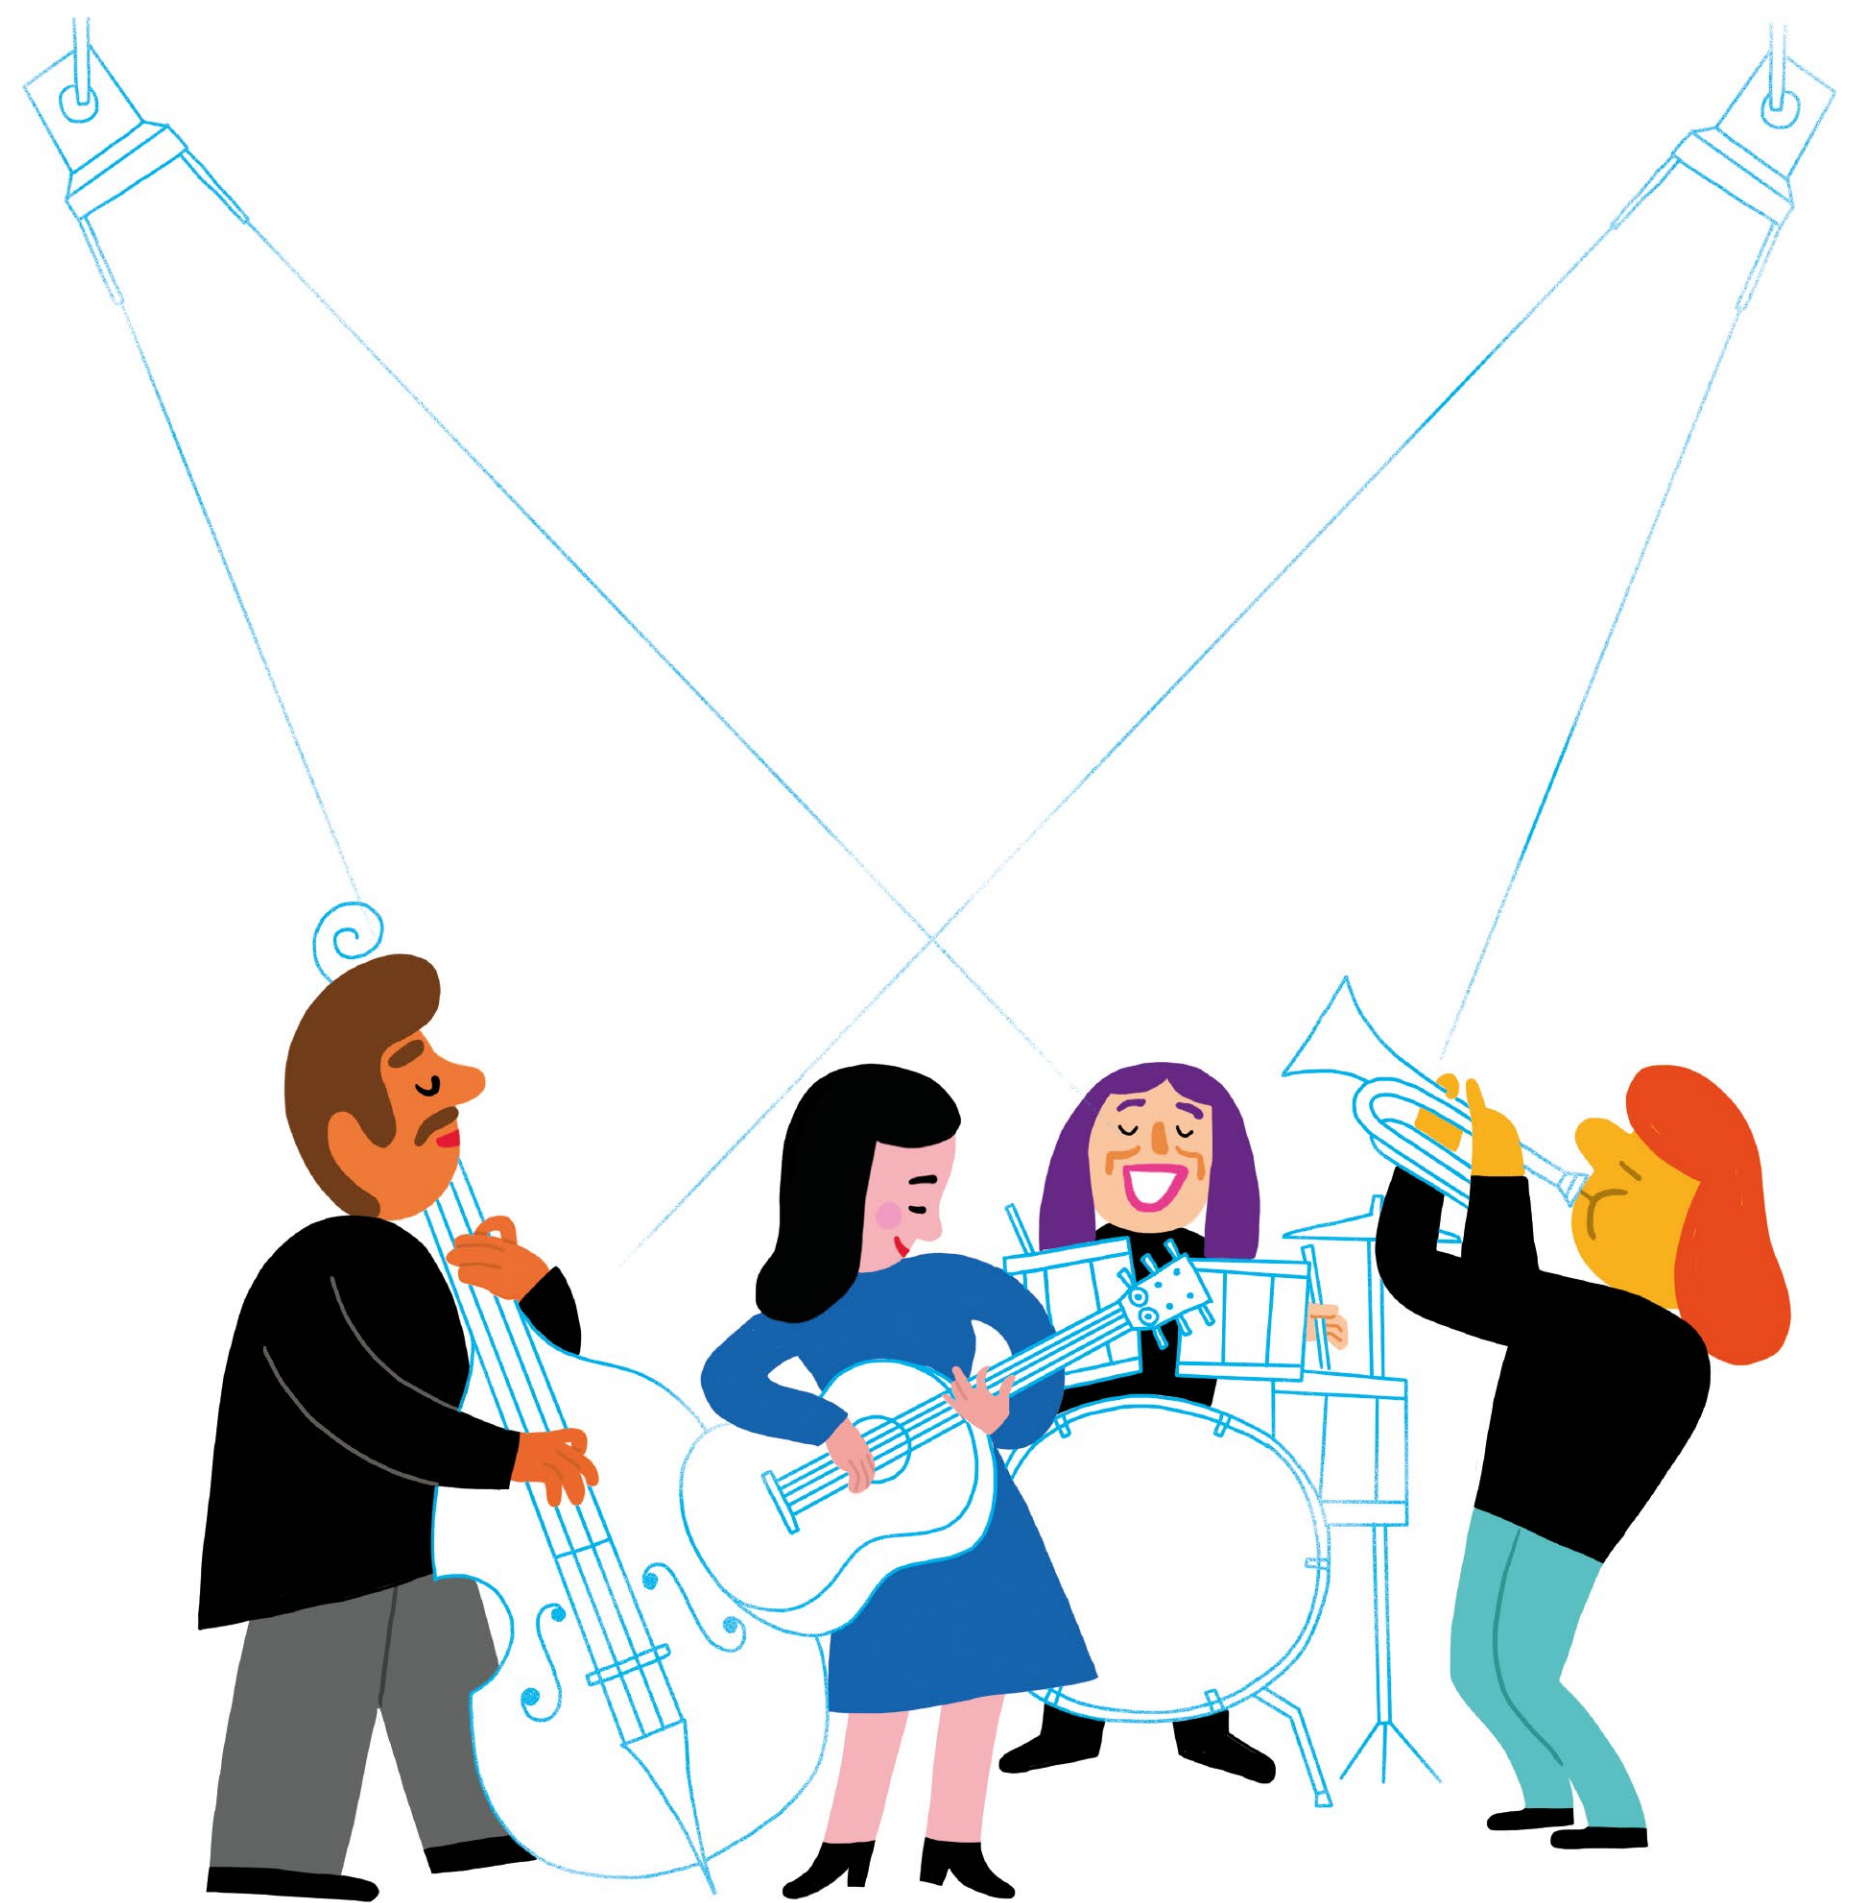

2 Two people in the forest.
One of them says something the other will remember for the rest of his life.

3

Three people on a podium.
Two of them are thrilled to be in the top three.

4

Four people in a band. One of them is a twin. One of them is thinking about her daughter's birthday present. One of them will soon be injured.

5
Five people in a family.
Three of them love reading. One of them has a secret sweetheart.

6
Six people in a lift.
One of them is scared he's missing out. Two of them feel lonely.

7

Seven people in a police line-up. Four of them have never done anything wrong. All of them are scared they'll be singled out.

8

Eight people in a gym class. All of them are worried they'll be picked last for dodgeball. One of them is looking forward to his sister's birthday party.

Nine people in a queue. Two of them have important decisions to make. One of them will soon be disappointed. One of them is looking forward to going to the cinema with her son.

9

10

Ten people in a hair salon. One of them is going to a party. One of them is going on a long trip. One of them has a business idea.

11

Eleven people on a football team. Ten of them like playing football. One of them dreads going to school.

12

Twelve people at a birthday party. Two of them are thinking about how time flies. One of them wishes her own birthday were sooner.

13

Thirteen people at a life-drawing class. Twelve of them forget everything else while they draw. One of them will soon become a father for the first time.