

Strange Happenings at Wild Lake

Kirste Paltto

Following several novels for both adult and teenage readers in recent years, Paltto has this time chosen to write for children. She has, once more, drawn from her treasure-trove of tales and adventure-stories which, together with elements of sami pre-Christian belief, form the basis of a novel that will stimulate children's curiosity and sense of wonder.

The main characters – Urban and Ritni – are camping out in a tent on their own for the first time. They wake to find that a strange girl, – Laksi – has come into their tent. They become friends and, together with Laksi, they leave the safety of their own world and step out into the unknown on the back of the great eagle, Alli. In Laksi's world, the two children encounter beings they have never seen before. Laksi's friend has disappeared and the children must face numerous challenges in order to try and find her. What has happened to Laksi's friend? Who has made the mysterious tracks? On the way, they are helped by various different beings in solving the mystery.

In order to receive this help, the children have to use touch as well as their own voices. They have to make up songs, stories and poems which they must then sing and recite themselves.

With Laksi's help, the two children, at first small and timid, start to believe in their own strength and ability, eventually experiencing mastery of even this alien world.

Written in a poetic and colourful language, Paltto has, with her latest novel, recreated and updated ancient myths in her own distinctive and inventive way, so that they also embrace today's children.

The book has been nominated for the Nordic Council's prize for 2017 in the "children's – youth literature" category. In 2020 the book was awarded with The Sami Council literature price.
