EXCERPT

Searching for answers about the fiends, Brage and Nagel break into the City Hall and steal the Seer's computer. On it, they find images suggesting that Nagel is related to the fiends. When word get's out, some people see Nagel as a threat.

NAGEL

The last of his species, he now lives as a fugitive in Nordheim. Is bullied around and mostly keeps to himself. Good with technical stuff and brews a mean cup of tea. Kind, naïve and thoughtful, but has a hard time standing his ground.

FARAH

Martial arts-ace and daughter of two deceased rebels from the occupied Heradan-territory. Wants to go in their footsteps in the fight against oppression, but can be a somewhat self-righteous know-it-all, and won't accept that the world isn't always black and white,

Loud, rough outsider of few words and even fewer friends. Trusts no one but himself, and thinks everyone is too caught up in status, money and popularity.

BRAGE

Mum and Dad are gonna freak out ...

They'll soon realise their off-roader has gone. But I've gotta find Nagel!

And there's the police too ... I'd better lie low in the bunker for a while.

Lucky that I copied everything from the Seer's computer before I chucked it!

Nagel ... Shit ... I hope nothing's happened.

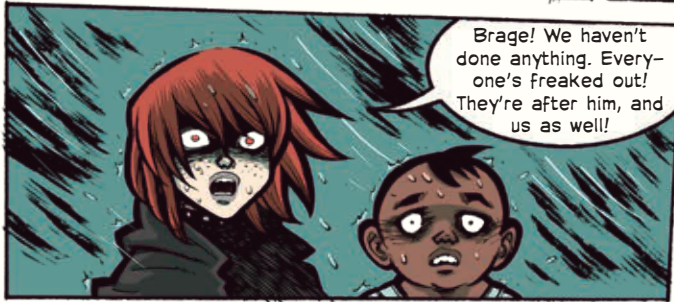

?!?
Ida! Bjørn!

IDA!!!
Where's Nagel?!
I swear, if you've done something to him ...

!!!

Brage! We haven't done anything. Everyone's freaked out!
They're after him, and us as well!

Get into the car.

Nordgaard's turned everyone totally psycho! He said that the storm is Nagel's fault.
And massive roots shot out of the ground and killed Ozcar1!

Christer's dad?
... Ida, you should never have shared that picture of Nagel as a Fiend!

D-don't even think about it!
I'm armed!

Brage?!

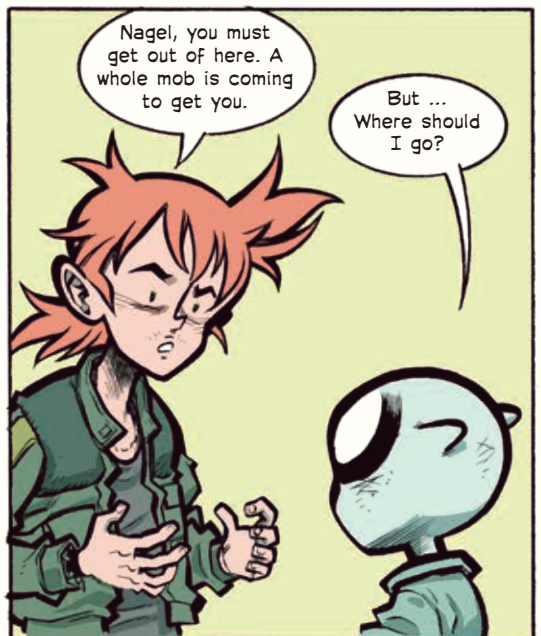

N-Nagel ...
Wh-what happened?

Sorry, sorry, sorry!

I thought ...
You said I should defend myself! I've been working on the glove for a while ...

Wow, you can really take a beating.

Nagel, you must get out of here. A whole mob is coming to get you.

But ...
Where should I go?

I can hear cars ... Nagel, we must go. Now.

You have to pack your things. Fast!

Can I ever come back? What shall I take with me?

Just take what's most important! I'll bring you some stuff later.

Nagel ...!

Not that sweater! It's so ugly.

KRSH

Shit, they're in the house already ...!

DUNK DUNK DUNK DUNK

We can exit through the trap-door. It leads behind the house.

Brage! Ha!
I might have known you'd be here.

Where have you hidden that little monster?!

There he is!

Hey,
you lot!
He's --

Why are you still helping him?!
You're a traitor, you know that, right?
HGGKKK

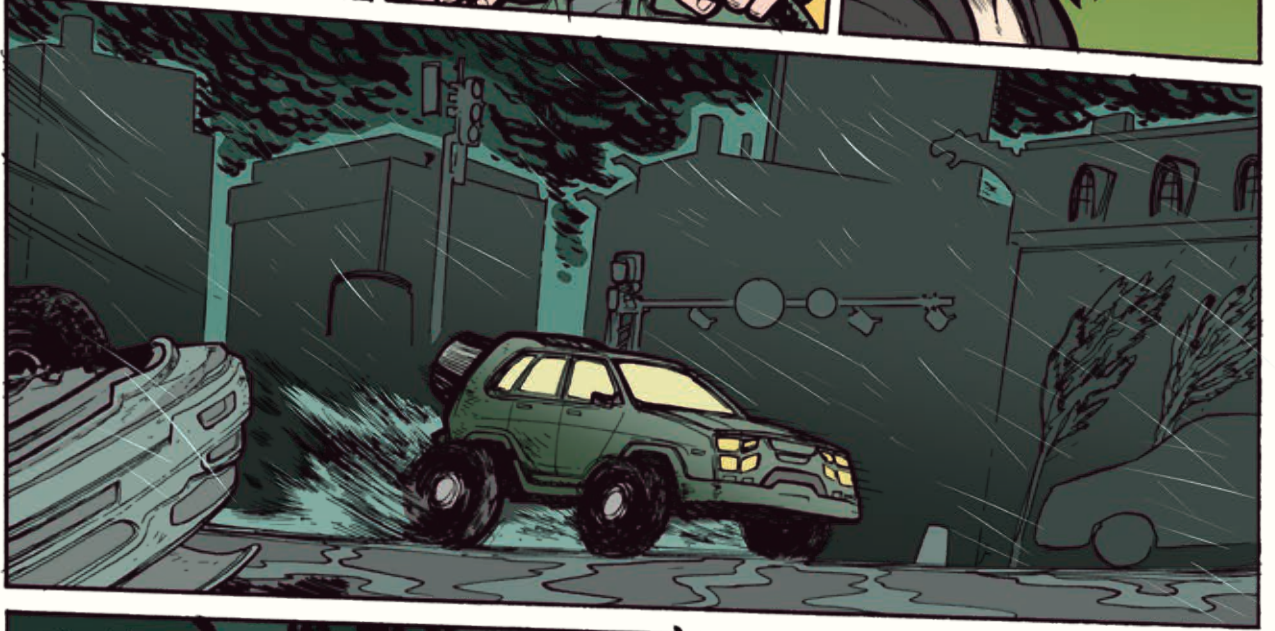

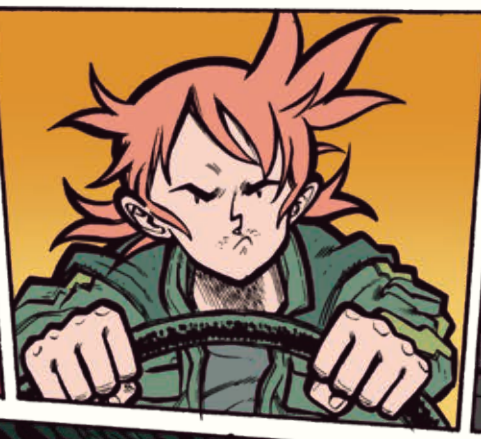

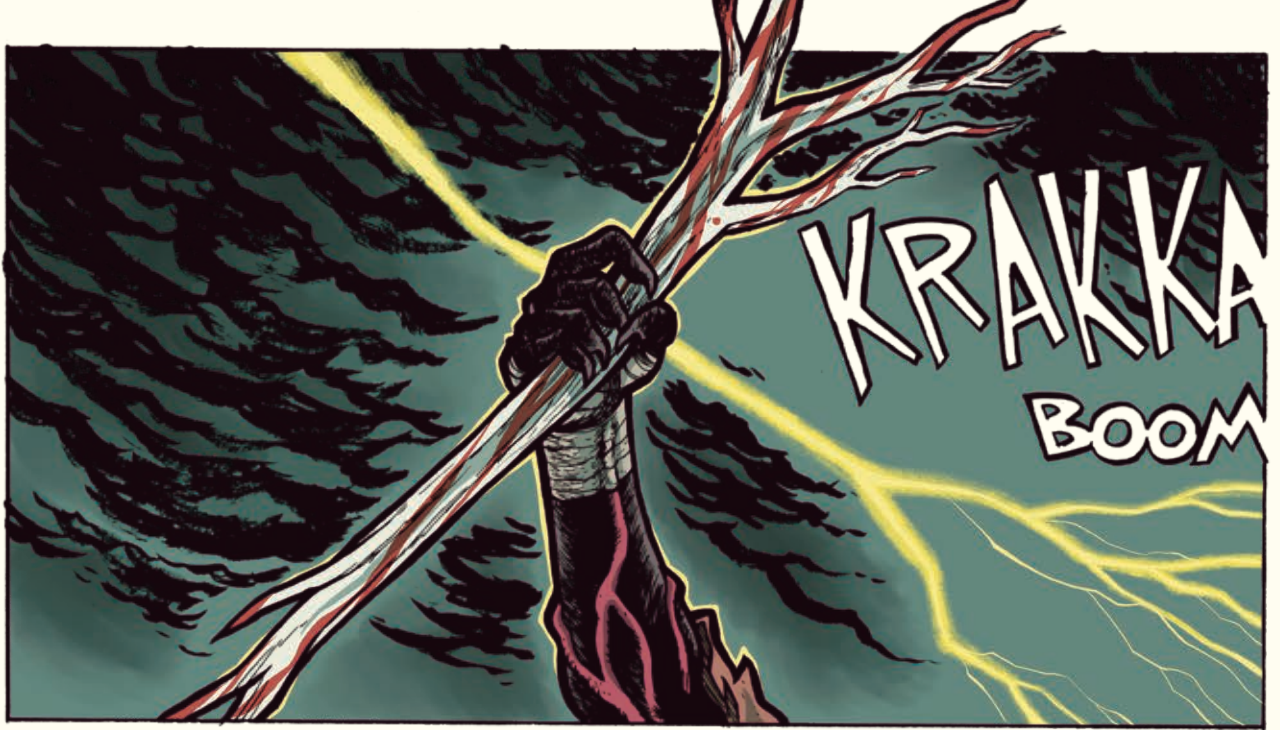

Christer,
if I had time I'd finish you off.

Brothers and sisters! We have waited so long and travelled so far. Are you ready to fight?

The first phase of the war starts tonight!

The King's daughter has brought us together again. She will lead us to victory!

We will reclaim the land that the humans have taken from us.

We will eat!
We will gorge ourselves on human flesh!

And we will live in their cities. We will rule now. It is our time!

Come, Princess, the Elders want to talk to you before you lead the attack.

Remember, they are old. They have started to lose their minds.

They don't always know what is best any more ...

We need the Nagel. A victory over the humans is meaningless without him.

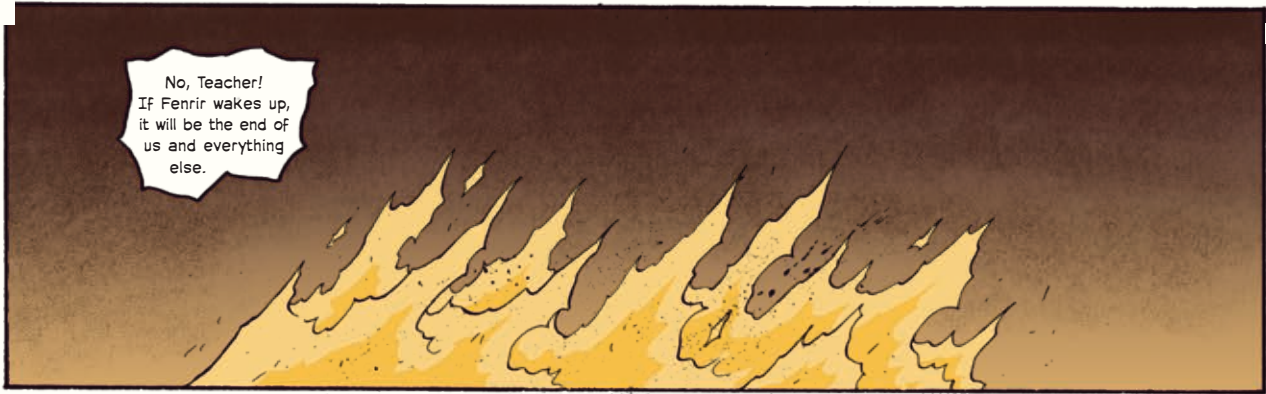

His blood will save us. It will soothe Fenrir, make him lie to rest again.

We have the Princess! Soldiers are coming from the other clans, from the east and the south. We will soon be reunited!

We should use the Nagel. He's of royal blood. Let him take his seat beside the Princess.

No, Teacher!
If Fenrir wakes up, it will be the end of us and everything else.

How do you know that? We have survived for a hundred years!

The storms cover us in darkness so we can move unseen. The more storms the better.

We must endure the pain that comes with the light. We cannot be weak!

Do you defy us?

We have spoken, Teacher!
Remember your place! Find the weapons. Train the Princess.

Bring us
the Nagel.
