The Zombie Next Door Svingen's Dark World

Normally it is a sad occasion when someone dies. But when the world's meanest neighbour dies, everyone breathes a sigh of relief. But then, strangely, the corpse is dug up the night after the funeral. The next day, Felix and Sara decide to see what it was like inside their sourpuss neighbour's home. But what's that weird smell? And what are those sounds behind the cellar door?
