Marit Mikkelsdatter Eira Murud

The Year in Sámiland

This is a book that explains everything about how the Sámi have been able to manage and responsibly use the natural resources in their surroundings. The book works like a calendar and it contains a lot of information about various subjects. The symbols help you navigate through the various topics: Sámi myths, the local fauna and flora in different times of the year, what natural resources you can use and how to responsibly use them, anniversaries and many other things. Most information in the book comes from the northernmost Sápmi region. The book has also become a special documentary of Sámi traditions.

Marit Mikkelsdatter Eira Murud
