Tom Schandy

Wild Eyes

Award-winning Norwegian nature photographer Tom Schandy has been confronted by more wild eyes than most. He has travelled the whole world in search of ultimate nature experiences, always with his camera at the ready. In this book we are presented with a personal voyage and a collection of fantastic photographs of unique and charismatic creatures. He has met the icy stare of the polar bear on Spitzbergen, and the heated glare of the jaguar in the Brazilian rainforest. He has observed the broken stare of the cheetah as it hunts down its prey, and watched the Lion King's eye as he looks for a mate. In the rainforests of Madagascar, he has looked into the eyes of the indri lemur – and in the Antarctic he has observed king penguins and emperor penguins taking care of their young. Each of his unique photographs is accompanied by a concise and insightful text about the creature's life and habits.

The photographer's involvement in animal welfare is obvious in each of his texts.

Look into these wild eyes, and be astonished!
