

Gyldendal 2019
40 pages
Original title: Blodig fakta
ISBN: 9788205520301

FOREIGN RIGHTS

Gyldendal Agency
P.O. Box 6860 St. Olavs plass
NO-0130 Oslo
Tel: +47 957 81 640
foreignrights@gyldendal.no
<http://eng.gyldendal.no>

Ingelin Røssland, Jenny Jordahl (ill.)

Bloody facts

This book is all about blood. Why is it so important? Can it really be true that a single person has 100,000 kilometres of blood vessels inside them?

This book provides the answer to that and much, much more. You'll also learn why children get more nosebleeds than adults, and that some things actually have blue blood. Not royalty, though – shrimp and squid! Here you can also read about menstruation, about what blood means in different religions, about blood in food, and about vampires and mosquitoes and other blood-sucking animals.

Bloody Facts is a book for readers who like a few crazy facts.

The book is accompanied by the vibrant illustrations of Jenny Jordahl.

Ingelin Røssland, Jenny Jordahl (ill.)

Ingelin Røssland (b. 1976) is a writer. She has published several young adult novels.

Jenny Jordahl (born 1989) is a designer, illustrator and cartoonist. She is a graduate of the Oslo National Academy of the Arts and has illustrated The F-word: 155 Reasons to be a Feminist (Manifesto, 2015) and The Great Bum Rumpus – and other glimpses from the media's backside (Manifesto, 2016).

Jenny won the Brage Prize in the category Best Children and Youth Book in 2020.

Gyldendal Agency

eng.gyldendal.no