

Aschehoug 2023
275 pages
Original title: Uke 40
ISBN: 9788203397011

 NORLA's Selected Titles

FOREIGN RIGHTS

Oslo Literary Agency
Evy Tillman
evy.tillman@osloliteraryagency.no
www.osloliteraryagency.no

RIGHTS SOLD TO

Click for foreign sales

AWARDS

See awards

OTHER TITLES

See other titles

Taran L. Bjørnstad

Week 40

18 years old Even is in his last year as a high school student. His ambitions are to qualify for the national championship in climbing and then the examination for military service. When he meets Iben, who is two years older, stunningly beautiful, and studies philosophy, he falls deeply in love. They spend a night together. But Iben is not easy to understand. In periods she keeps a distant and is hard to contact. When Even one day gets a call from a psychiatric he is faced with a difficult choice. Iben is pregnant, unable to take care of herself and not a child. What will Even do? Can he be a father?

'... a strong and sympathetic novel...'

-- Maya Troberg Djuve, Dagbladet 5/6 stars

Taran L. Bjørnstad

Taran L. Bjørnstad (b. 1966) is an established author of highly acclaimed children's books and young adult novels. In 2017 she was nominated for the Deutscher Jugendliteraturpreis for her middle grade novel The Crocodile Thief. She has been the leader of the Norwegian Writers for Children Author's Association and has worked as a media analyst and researcher. Bjørnstad has a university degree in media and communication from London and Oslo. She lives in Oslo, Norway.

Oslo Literary Agency

osloliteraryagency.no/