Tom Egeland

666

Religious fanatics have been trying to calculate the date of Judgment Day for centuries. In the USA, an extremist sect refuses to wait any longer. They threaten Bjørn Beltø to locate the original manuscript of the Book of Revelation, which contains the recipe for the Bible's Judgment Day – the end of the world. Bjørn Beltø is the only one who understands what is about to happen. In an intense race against time, he must convince American intelligence that the fear of Judgment Day is not a crazy conspiracy theory. At the same time, he must protect his daughter Angelina from mysterious pursuers.

Tom Egeland

Tom Egeland (b. 1959) is the author of the bestselling series about archaeologist Bjørn Beltø and a number of standalone crime novels. He is translated into 25 languages and has received numerous Norwegian literary prizes, including Rivertonprisen for best crime novel (Gospel of Lucifer) and Riksmålsforbundets Literary Award (The Devil's Mask). His novel Night of the Wolf became both a movie and a TV series. Egeland has been president of the Norwegian Crime Writers' Association (Rivertonklubben) and a board member of the Norwegian Authors' Union for ten years. He has also been a book critic for the Norwegian newspaper VG.
