Lene Drange and Tore Løchstøer Hauge

The Book of Money From Piggy Bank to Debit Card - everything you need to know about money

Money is a genius invention!

Money makes it possible to go to shops and buy food, clothes and whatever else you need – without having to cultivate the potatoes, sew the jacket or put together the computer yourself. But how does money work on a global scale and who decides the value of it? Is it possible to save up for anything you want? And what do adults spend all their money on?

The Money Book is a smart, simple and entertaining book about what money is and how you earn, save and spend it and about anything else worth knowing when you transition from money in the piggy bank to an allowance on your bank account!

Lene Drange and Tore Løchstøer Hauge

Lene Drange has a degree in economics and hosts the TV-programme Luksusfellen (The Luxury Trap) and gives lectures to a variety of audiences. Tore Løchstøer Hauge is a banker and has a background as a copy writer, editor and director of the programme Luksusfellen (The Luxury Trap). Lene and Tore have a drive to educate children and young people in economics, and in 2020 they were shortlisted for the prestigious award Brageprisen for the previous book Snaponomics – be brilliant at your own financial situation.
