#Guilty

Josef is only half-assing his attempt at being one of the cool guys. Brede is the boss of the crew along with Mathias and the other guys. Josef is on the basketball team and gets invited to the best parties.

It's it happens at one of the parties. The girl in the bed, the one who signals for him to come over. Josef closes his eyes to the mates and the cheering around him and looks only down at the girl. It's only afterwards he finds out that someone filmed it all. That the footage might have been passed around. But his world falls apart when Josef realises what really happened that night.
