

Vigmostad & Bjørke 2025
56 pages

Original title: Et dinosaurliv
Zelda og Zaras historie
ISBN: 9788241965852

FOREIGN RIGHTS

Vigmostad & Bjørke
St. Olavsgate 12,
N- 0165 Oslo
Norway
Elisabeth Godal Sheehy
elisabeth.sheehy@vigmostadbjorke.no

OTHER TITLES

Ida
Roar - the Life of a Triceratops
Life of a T-Rex

Jørn H. Hurum, Torstein Helleve, Esther van Hulsen (ill.)

A Dinosaur's Life The Story of Zelda and Zara

What was life really like for a dinosaur, 75 million years ago?

At the Natural History Museum in Oslo, you can visit the skeletons of two duck-billed dinosaurs – an adult and a youngster, Zelda and Zara.

In this book, you'll discover how these two, and many other dinosaurs, lived together. How did such enormous creatures manage to lay eggs? Why did so many dinosaurs have huge horns or spikes on their bodies? And did some dinosaurs actually live in herds?

Paleontologist Jørn H. Hurum, author Torstein Helleve, and illustrator Esther van Hulsen bring the tale of Zelda and Zara to life – sharing fascinating and surprising facts about excavations, fossils, and dinosaurs.

Jørn H. Hurum, Torstein Helleve, Esther van Hulsen
(ill.)

Jørn H. Hurum (b. 1967) is a paleontologist and one of Norway's most prominent science communicators. He is a professor at the Natural History Museum in Oslo. Since 2004 he has led a team excavating large marine lizards on Svalbard.

Esther van Hulsen (b. 1981) is a Dutch artist, painter and nature illustrator living in Norway. She is a graduate of the Kunstacademie Minerva Groningen. Van Hulsen has illustrated a number of award-winning non-fiction books for children about prehistoric animals.

Torstein Helleve (b. 1964) works with research communication and information in the Department of Pharmacy at the University of Oslo.

Vigmostad & Bjørke