On the Move!
A ride on the Tram

From morning till night, the tram travels through the city, from one end of the line to the other. Some passengers are off to nursery to play, giggle and goof around. Others are heading to the swimming pool to learn how to float on their backs. Some are going to see their best friend, or to visit Grandma or Grandad. And sometimes people ride the tram just for the fun of it.

In this colourful, lyrical non-fiction picture book, Line Sanne and Olivia Jørgensen take young readers on a journey of discovery through the city. The busy double-page spreads are full of things to spot, from tram passengers and buildings to exotic animals. Along the way, children pick up fun facts about trams.
