

Gyldendal Norsk Forlag 2017
176 pages
Original title: En familie om høsten

FOREIGN RIGHTS

anne.cathrine.eng@gyldendal.no

AWARDS

Riksmålsforbundet's literary prize

OTHER TITLES

Wild Animals in Town (children's book 2016)
In His Sleep He Resembled a Child (novel 2014)
Facing the Moon (novel 2010)
Revenge (YA novel 2009)
It Starts with Sex and Ends with Death (novel 2007)
The Pudding Man and the Three Sisters
Whose Names All Began With B (children's book 2006)
Fiat (novel 2004)
Selma and the Ballet Monster (children's book 2006)
Jotapata. An Antique Story (novel 2001)
Me and My Beloved Ones (novel 1999)

Gyldendal Agency

eng.gyldendal.no

Jan Chr. Næss

A Family in the Autumn

Tonje, Henrik and their teenage daughter Pernille go on vacation to the Red Sea, where they have plans to dive and hope to Catch a glimpse of the rare yellow moray eel. But more than anything else, they hope that shared experiences far from home can repair the small Nuclear Family that is coming apart at the seams.

All relationships are based on trust, especially Close ones. A Family in Autumn is a closely written drama in two acts which deals with what happens when trust breaks Down and the clouds come rolling in.

Jan Chr. Næss

Jan Chr. Næss (b. 1964 in England) lives in Oslo. He has worked as a high school teacher and translator and published his first work of fiction in 1999. In addition to novels he has written a number of childrens' books. He was awarded Riksmålsforbundet's literary prize for his last novel, It Starts with Sex and Ends with Death.

