Olav H. Hauge

Poems and journals – Luminous Spaces

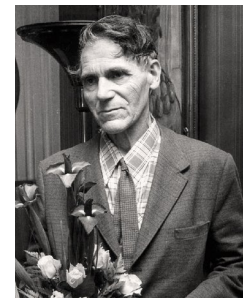

Luminous Spaces is the most recent and comprehensive translated collections of Olav H. Hauge's poems and excerpts of his journals. This collection spans seventy years of Olav H. Hauge's poetry with over three hundred poems, a third of which have never appeared in English. It also includes a generous selection from his four thousand pages of journals, previously unpublished in translation, and an intimate forward by his widow, Bodil Cappelen.

Selection and translation by Olav Grinde.
Published by White Pine Press, USA, 2016.

Olav H. Hauge

Olav H. Hauge (1908 - 1984) is one of Norway's most respected and significant poets. He has published a long line of poem collection, inclusive translation of many foreign authors. Hauge also wrote journals from 1924 - 1984; five volumes.

See detailed by Olav Grinde attached.
