Into the woods

Me and my big sister are going to sleep over in the woods.
It's really too scary.
But Maja says we will be fine.
We have practiced in the tent in the garden.

The photo picture-book has a striking and organic interaction between the photographs with the light changing throughout the day, and the text that is close to the child's viewpoint and sensibility.

The book is set in Norway, in the woods near the kids' family cabin.

Suitable for 4-8 year old readers
